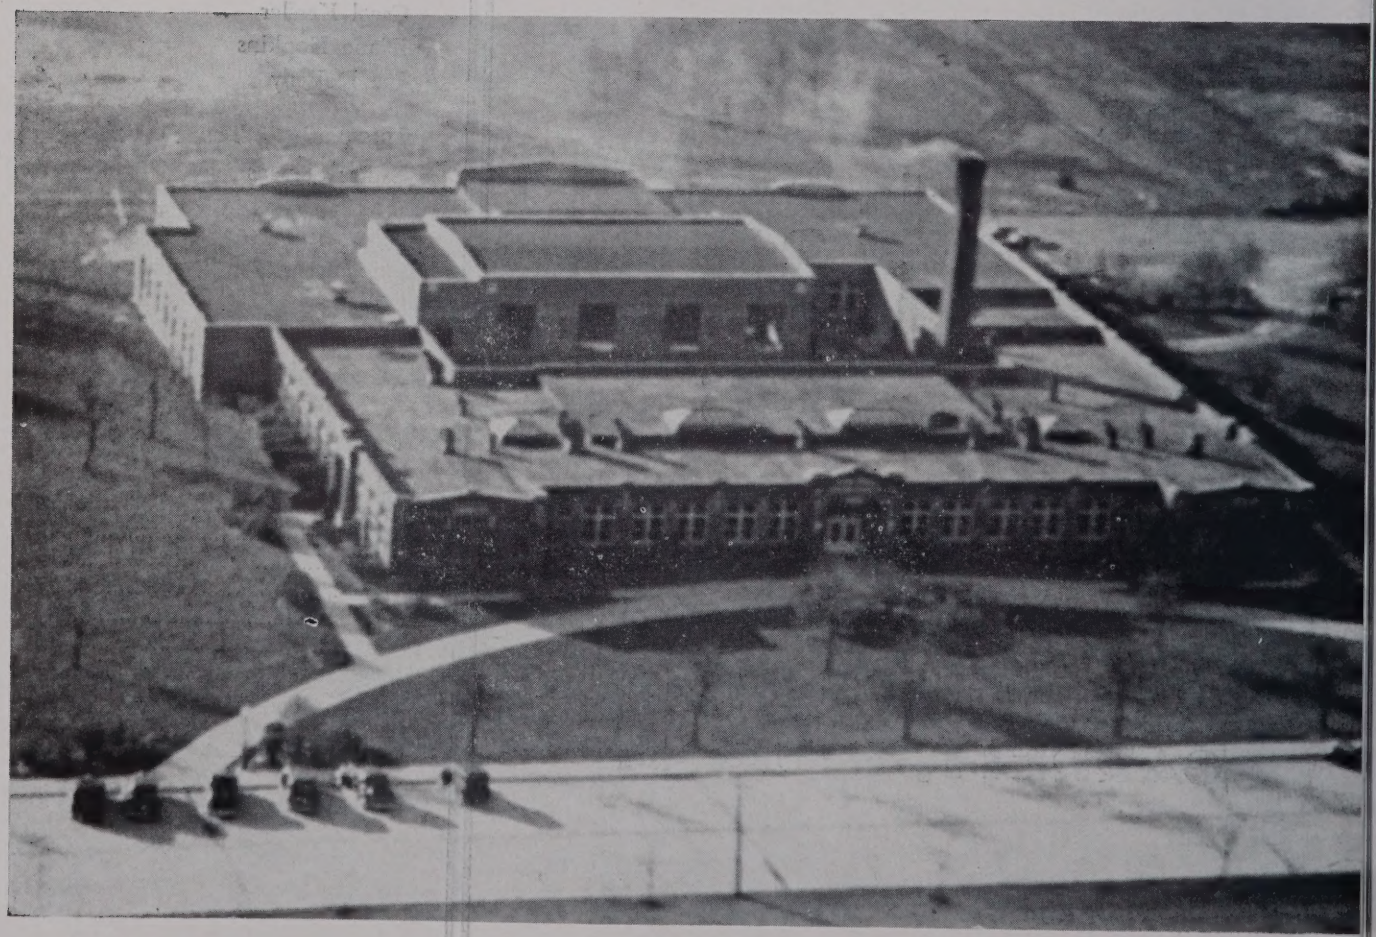
THE TAKE OFF . . .

From the very first day of school until graduation pupils find themselves meeting new challenges, facing new problems, confronting new tasks. It is the "take-off" that counts most in these efforts; every further action is built upon the original ground-work.

May 20 is graduation day for the Class of 1948. These youth will leave behind them the schoolrooms, blackboards, and books of high school. Before them will be college, jobs, and homes. But the facts learned in the twelve years of student-training will not be cast aside; all of this will be the impetus for the start of a greater period in the continuing flight of life.

They're off—to dreams unfulfilled, to plans unfinished, to hopes set high. Ready? Contact!

Roger!!!



THE CONTROL TOWER

The "office"—focal point of school activities—is familiar to every student and teacher; it is here that plans are made and administered to coordinate the many phases of life at Garrett High School.

Long hours of hard labor are needed to make our school program operate smoothly. The superintendent and principal use their foresight and knowledge to determine the course that is to be taken.

There is also an untold amount of intricate detail work to be done—tabulation, checkups, and reports—which are all a part of the duties of the school secretary. A general acquaintance with school laws and activities combined with personal traits of promptness, dependability, and leadership have made the secretarial efficiency of Miss Nell well known throughout the twenty-four years which she has served Garrett Public Schools.

Thus, the staff of the AEOLIAN takes pride in dedicating this book to Miss Nell, a dependable chief operator in the G. H. S. "control tower."

BRIEFING . . .

A familiar sight to every one at Garrett High School is the study hall in room eleven. Hours of preparation are carried on in this large, well-equipped room which doubles as a library offering top-notch reference and study material as well as a variety of books and magazines for reading enjoyment.

YOUTH STUDIES FOR TOMORROW

Often times—in the hustle and bustle of assignments, class discussions, and tests—we may lose sight of the actual purpose of school. Perhaps we'll have to reach our destinations in life before the real values derived from education can be fully realized.

It doesn't take a grown-up, though, to understand that in this age of atoms, radar, and jets a well-rounded education plus practical experience are indispensible to anyone who expects to take his place in community life. Youth find it difficult to picture themselves as the leaders of tomorrow, but through training and experience these students are preparing to pilot the world a few years hence.

Classrooms aren't the only sight of learning; assemblies offer factual information plus entertainment. This year there were many outstanding assemblies with a variety of talents being displayed. Negro tenor Emanuel Mansfield and his accompaniest, Leo Rusmo, topped the card of professional talent. The robust singing so captured the hearts of the student body that three encores were demanded. Simon "Nutchuck" Oliver, a native-born Eskimo; Joan Bishop, a former Quiz Kid; Dr. Arnold Young, an English author and lecturer; and the Coles, puppet artists, completed the roster of stellar entertainment. This outside talent is paid for by the efforts of the students themselves, who raise the necessary funds in an annual magazine sales campaign.

Seasonal holidays and sports events are the nuclei for annual student assemblies. The musical department of the school is featured in the Thanksgiving and Christmas commemorations, while all add their enthusiasm to such get togethers as the pre-Auburn football game pep session. Throughout the year several recognition assemblies were also held to honor students who excelled in their various activities.

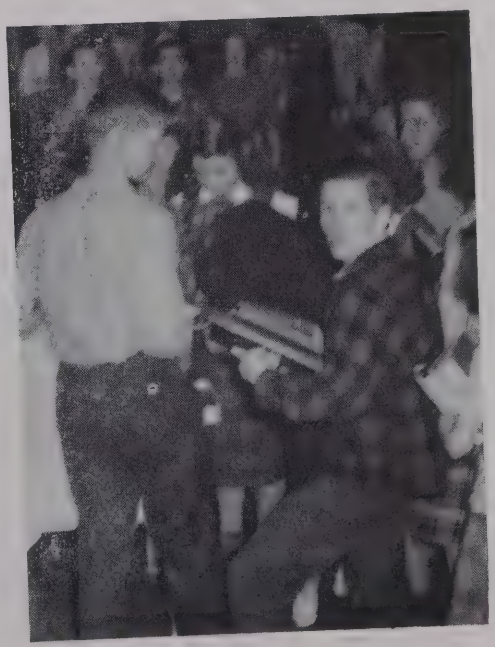
WARMING UP . . .

Every piece of machinery needs a frequent checkup. Many adjustments and repairs have to be made. New parts must sometimes be added. Top left: Mrs. Faulstick sells supplies at the bookstore. Top right: Those smiling individuals in the office seem to be there only for a routine checkup. Large-scale refueling is in effect each noon hour as these students (bottom left) well illustrate. At bottom right, Shirley Baker and Marjorie Bartels undergo a "paint job" in the girl's lounge.

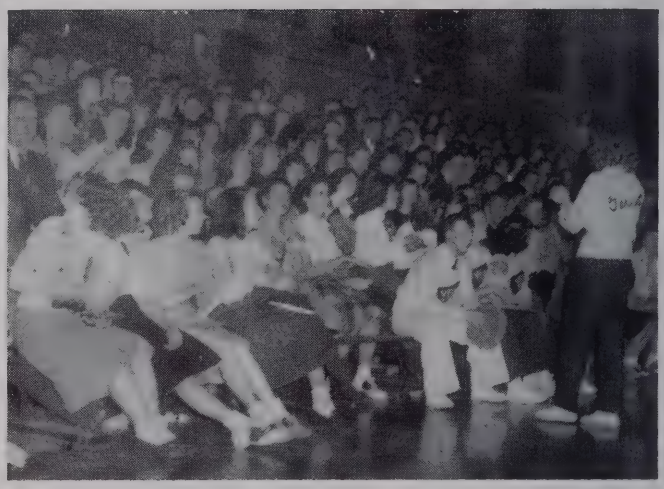
What's the scramble at right? Thirsty students are crowding the drinking fountain in an effort to whet their whistles.



CLOUD HOPPERS . . .

After spending hours in classrooms, students rush the concession stands, operated by various school organizations, to buy a candy bar or an apple or perhaps a shaker or a pennant for the game in the evening . . .

. . . where the athletic contests offer thrilling entertainment to the assembled fans. Joyce Barnes leads the cheering section in a yell . . .



. . . there are even music and refreshments at the victory dance following the game. Swing your partner!

STUDENTS WORK IN COMMUNITY

Not all of students' time is spent at school. Neither are all after-school and Saturday hours spent in leisure; students take advantage of job openings at local business concerns to earn extra spending money. Youth takes pride in doing a job well. They develop qualities of dependability and persistence which will aid them to better fulfill their life-time jobs.

Above: Delivering papers is big business for Franklyn Dammann who uses a three-wheeled motor scooter to carry him over his morning route.

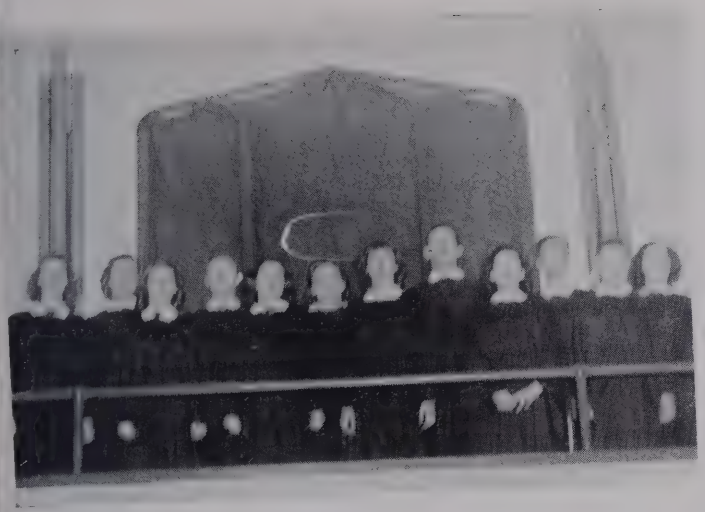
Below: Lee Cook takes time out from farm chores to rumple two English Shepherd pups. Barbara Krider seasons hamburgers as she serves as "chief-cook-and-bottle-washer" at the Drive Inn.



YOUTH TAKE PART IN CHURCH ACTIVITES

Left: This group of high school students form a picturesque scene as they sing in their church choir. Below: Crowded around the bell, which is being donated to an Oklahoma mission church, are the students who helped to finance its purchase. Bottom: These church youth are shown in their production of a comedy, "Your Face Is Familiar."

Teen-agers realize the importance of the more serious side of life. Through youth organizations in the churches, young people promote worthy projects, cooperate in performing plays and programs, sing in choirs, serve as ushers, and enthusiastically share the responsibilities of many other activities of the church.

The world of tomorrow will be in good hands, for the youth of today are preparing well in all fields of endeavor.

EXPERIENCED MEN ARE IN CHARGE OF OPERATIONS

The administration has the herculean task of formulating the course of action that is to be followed by the school. The responsibilities of operating a public school system require the skilled planning of well-trained men.

Although this is the first year for Mr. Minniear and Mr. Flora to hold their respective positions, the success and progress of the school program is tangible proof of their ability in the field of school administration.

FAREWELL . . .

Now is the hour when we must say goodbye
To our Alma Mater, dear old Garrett High.
Happy the years that we have spent with you.
Dear are our mem'ries as we bid adieu.
We are the class of 1948.
We say farewell now as we graduate.
Forward together on pathways ever new.
Loyal and faithful—hail! Maroon and Blue!

(This may be sung to "Now Is The Hour," Maori Farewell Song.)

FLIGHT 48

"Forward Ever, Backward Never"

Seniors have reached one destination in life's long journey; the class of 1948 chose as its motto, "Forward Ever, Backward Never," to serve as a guide for future flights. May twentieth will be graduation day for these youth. They will receive their "wings" as a symbol of twelve years of preparation successfully completed. But, as they leave the halls of G. H. S., each will have inscribed in his mind and heart fond memories of days gone by. . . .

". . . Our first high school social affairs as freshmen—tea dances, sport dances, and those ever-popular skating parties . . . the highlight of our sophomore year, the Sophomore-Junior Barn Dance. Oh, what fun! . . . our incomparable class rings . . . working overtime in concession stands . . . keeping secrets, lots of work, Dick Pepple's orchestra, Mysterious Brown—all beneath the Big Top at our Junior-Senior Banquet . . . the hilarious picnic when we were the guests of the seniors . . . SENIORS at last . . . white (?) class sweaters . . . class colors: maroon and white . . . class flower: yellow rose . . . pictures . . . name cards . . . the AEOLIAN . . . the class play . . . Activities came fast and furious as our high school careers reached a climax."

"At last—the grand finale . . . the banquet honoring us . . . Baccalaureate . . . the Junior-Senior picnic . . . class night—our last time together as a class . . . then GRADUATION!"

Farewell! . . . Happy Landing!!

GUESS AGAIN ! ! !

Deah, deah! Four bloomin' Henglishmen in one cast—two real and two as real as possible. Up goes the price of monocles and tweeds! Bloaters and marmalade for breakfast! My word!

But that's not all. Oh, my, no! There was Sol Messer, the movie magnet, and Lulu, the big-league newspaper columnist, and Renee Lamour, one of Hollywood's most ambitious chiselers, and "Soak-'em-Hard" Pratt, the dastardly villian about to foreclose on poor old Grimes, the hotel proprietor, and Waldo "No appreciation" Fitts, porter and general nuisance, who could play any part ever invented, and Mrs. Skinner, who was as 1890-ish as the law will allow, and her fresh young insurgent of a daughter, Dora Mae, and Olive Ordway, who ate raw cauliflower and was ready on a moment's notice to teach you the Uplift Walk, and Janet Moore, the comeliest of college sweethearts, and Bill Douglas without a dime but with a head full of ideas—mostly about Janet, and Marcella Jenks, an ambitious but none-too-shrewd news hawk, and—but why go on? Anyone who saw the 1948 senior class play, "GUESS AGAIN," met all of these hilarious characters in person.

And none will forget Lord Wiggleton. Four Lord Wiggletons! Yes, sir—four!

Forty-niners strike it rich

Wherever you go—there's a junior! The projects and activities of the junior class keep its members running errands and fulfilling duties on a 'round-the-clock basis. To raise funds for the traditional Junior-Senior Banquet the class sells candy, ice-cream, and soft drinks before and after school and at athletic contests. This year the basketball tournaments offered unusual opportunities for raising funds; and the seniors reaped the benefits at another "super' banquet.

The class sponsors—Mrs. Sweeney, Mrs. Faulstick, and Mr. Bateman—contributed much to the success of the projects through business instruction and through actual labor.

FIRST ROW: Robert Donley, Kess Crager. SECOND ROW: Arnold Dose, Melvin Diederich, Joan Gilbert, Marilyn Brown, Doloris Boester, Florine Bush, Martha Bloom, Marcine Ashenfelter, Sharon DePew, Joan Carlin. THIRD ROW: Marilyn Connor, Janet Engle, Shirley Baker, Marjorie Bartles, Esther Davidson, Tommy DeWitt, Eula May Freeman, Maxine Fitch, Joann Bleck, Jeanette Fenstermaker, Mr. Bateman.

Besides pep sessions, parties, games, and . . . work (!), the juniors were offered the added delight of choosing class rings—which incidentally, seniors think are never so beautiful as are their own. The juniors also sponsored after-game victory dances and a school skating party.

The class of 1949 is zooming toward graduation. Their course is set full speed ahead. Happy Landing!

Sophomores keep things humming

Sophomores—the class of 1950—are some of the most active students in Garrett High. Robert Dawson, president; Pat Owens, vice-president; Judy Clark, secretary; Jerry Campbell, treasurer; and Robert Schurr, program chairman, kept their class activities humming though business and program meetings and at social activities, including the Valentine's and the April Fool's parties.

Under the supervision of Miss Evard, Mr. Berry, and Mr. Rahmer, valuable programs were presented by the home rooms on alternate Tuesdays.

The sophomores gave their whole-hearted cooperation to school and class activities; the traits of leadership and cooperation developed by these students will be indispensible next year when they will undertake the many projects of the junior class.

Freshmen are ready for future flights

Although freshmen are often called "greenies," this year's class has done much to prove that they are capable of accepting responsibilities and challenges. Under the leadership of Mrs. Schlecht and Mr. Woodcox, the freshmen have developed into a well-organized group of students. The guidance periods were spent in learning to use correct etiquette and in acquiring a knowledge of different vocational fields. Having also been instructed in the laws of parliametary procedure, the class elected officers. Several interesting student discussions concerned inferiority and superiority complexes, chains of habits, and humor. Not all of the time was spent on intellectual development, however, for the freshmen class held an enjoyable old-fashioned barn-dance!

The freshmen have already proven their worth; they are ready to fill the positions as sophomores in '49.

SHOOTIN' THE BREEZE

Joe: "This pie is delicious."
Ochy: "I'm so thrilled you like it."
Joe: "Did you buy it yourself?"

Mr. Flora: "Are you the barber who cut my hair the last time?"
Barber: "I don't think so. I've only worked here six months."

John Ed Walters recently bought a million 1947 calendars for a penny a piece.
"What on earth are you going to do with them?" he was asked.
"It's a long shot, I admit," he said, "but, oh boy, if 1947 ever comes back, I'll make a fortune."

Leslie Harper: "What did you say, Mr. Harman?"
Mr. Harman: "I don't know. I wasn't listening."

Ned Schlosser: "Last night I dreamt I was married to the most beautiful girl in the world."
Marilyn Heinlen: "Were we happy?"

Mr. Baker has asked us to print the following ad:
"Will the person who stole the jar of alcohol from the chemistry room kindly return my aunt's appendix? No questions asked."

"It's the little things in life that tell," said Katrina H. as she yanked her little brother from under the sofa.

Chuck Hartle chugged up to the toll gate in his Model "A."
"Fifty cents" the attendant declared.
"SOLD!" yelled Hartle.

Mr. Bateman: "You should never do anything in private that you wouldn't do in public."
Jumbo Hollis: "Yippee! No more baths."

Teacher: "Tom, can you tell me what a grudge is?"
Tom DeWitt: "Why sure, a grudge is where they keep automobiles."

Coach Parks: "Bill, what do you do when you get a bug in your ear?"
Bill Putt: "Oh, I just stick a finger in each ear and starve him to death."

Pete Smith: "What's the matter, Dave, you look disgusted?"
D. Grimm: "I played hookey all day before I realized it was Saturday."

Reader: "So you make up all these jokes yourself."
Joke editor: "Yep—out of my head."
Reader: "You must be!"

FLIGHT 52

Junior high fledglings eye high school life

The 1948 nine-B's hold the distinction of being the last class of mid-year students to enter Garrett High School. These pupils have already had a taste of high school life and are eager to continue their flight onward and upward. As sponsor, Mr. Rose guided the "half-freshmen" in discussions of current events, school news, and other topics of interest to them.

The eighth grade, under the direction of Mr. Baker and Mr. Harman, was a very active group. Each semester Mr. Baker's home room elected officers who led their classmates in the presentation of plays, games, blackboard drills, and, during the first semester, in reading parts of "Treasure Island." The guidance activities of Mr. Harman's home room included pantomimes, mock trials, music appreciation, and discussions.

The eighth grade and the nine-B's combined their efforts to sponsor two hilarious parties.

The thrill of being real high school pupils will be realized next fall by these energetic fledglings when they will take over the controls of the freshman class—heading straight for 1952!

TOP PANEL

The seventh grade home room periods, under the direction of Mr. Coble, were used for valuable reports and discussions concerning orientation, and social, moral, and ethical guidance. After spending but one year at the GHS airport, these youth have already become accustomed to the hustle and bustle of a "big" school. They are looking forward to the next five years when they shall rack up honors and glory for themselves, their class, and their school.

SOLOISTS

Will Franks School

where new worlds are opened to young minds

Six years old! and the first day of school—the day to which every child looks with eager anticipation, the day to which those who are older look back with fond recollection.

How well we all remember those first few days—days which suddenly leap into years. Learning to count and to know which color was which . . . the thrill when you could spell your own name (last name, too!) . . . the parties, plays, and programs . . . spelling-bees, arithmetic, nouns and verbs—the memories are unlimited for the tasks were many.

School—where we met so many new friends and new ideas. Each year, one more step toward that final graduation into adult life. And so . . . a salute to the youth who are just beginning that long, long flight toward their senior year! May they prepare well so that their journeys may be smooth—that their destinations may be reached successfully.

* * * * *

There are many special events which this year's students in the Will Franks School will long cherish. The pictures, stories, and singing made school fun instead of work. Fifth grade students received "travel letters" which were read and then illustrated by student drawings. Many students made appropriate pictures and posters which were displayed in the Public Library during Good Book Week.

The Christmas season offered many opportunities for classroom projects. Each room had its own gaily decorated tree, and the pupils exchanged gifts. Mrs. Stuck's class produced a beautiful cut-work picture of the Bethlehem scene, while the children in Miss Hall's room made plaster of Paris plaques of their hand prints for gifts to the mothers. All the grade students saw two technicolor movies—one about the birth of Christ, and the other about Santa Claus, Indiana. Throughout the year were also several classroom plays and a magician show.

The children helped boys and girls in other lands by collecting over 300 cans of milk for the "Friendship Train." The pupils also took an active part in gathering clothes for a local family whose home was destroyed by fire.

Each forenoon milk was served to the children—a project carried on again this year through the courtesy of the Sigma Phi Gamma. The students cooperate by bringing boxes of crackers to be eaten with the milk.

Posing at the dedication of the new music room are (left to right): Mr. Ober, Mr. Minniear, Miss Ellert, Miss Gilbert, Mr. Manrow, Mrs. Crow, Miss Silberg, Miss Hall, Mrs. Stuck, Miss Dean, Mrs. Peters, and Miss Cobler.

During National Education Week the pupils invited their parents to attend school on a special "visiting day." The new music room was decorated with waxed fall leaves and various weeds painted by the children. Here the pupils served punch, wafers, nuts, and candy to the ninety parents who attended.

Mothers of the first grade students formed a special club whose monthly meetings served to better acquaint these parents with the problems and pleasures of the children who have just started their school careers.

Activities add flavor to the three R's

The Y-Teen Club strives to attain the high purpose, "To find and give the best." Heading the club's many activities were the annual sandwich sales, tea dances, and the sale of stationery and Christmas cards. The club also sponsored the colorful Winter Wonderland Dance at which the elected King, Queen, and Court reigned. One of the most outstanding of the bi-weekly programs was a lecture by Mrs. Hartman, probate officer of the Fort Wayne Juvenile Court. In February a delegation of the girls attended the Northern Indiana Conference at Gary.

Mrs. Beulah Faulstick, although previously unfamiliar with Y-Teen work, capably accepted the reins of sponsor from Miss Marie Thrush, who resigned after having given sixteen years of devoted service to Girl Reserves and Y-Teen. Helping to lead the club were Margaret Smith, president; Shirley Baker, vice-president; Marcine Ashenfelter, secretary; Margaret Weideman, treasurer; Jayne Owens, program chairman; Joan Helbert, service chairman; and Dorothy Martin, song leader.

To create Christian ideals and good fellowship in the home, the school, and the community is the purpose of the Hi-Y Club sponsored by Mr. Rose. Pertinent topics concerning problems of youth are discussed at the weekly meetings. This year the club stressed pencil and pennant sales to raise its pledge for the YMCA Rehabilitation Fund. The Hi-Y boys also sponsored several welfare drives in the school and a high school skating party. Many members attended and participated in the Third District Hi-Y conferences at Ligonier and Waterloo.

The president of the club was Richard Ober; Charles Hartle, vice-president; Joe DeVeny, secretary; Marvin Sherman, treasurer.

The Bible Club is organized for pupils of senior high school level who are interested in increasing their knowledge and appreciation of the English Bible. In accordance with the provisions of the Indiana state course of study, elective credit is given to those who wish to pursue the study for sufficient time. Each year a different phase of the Bible is studied—this year's topic being "The Life of Christ." The study group is under the guidance of Mr. Sherman.

Oliver, L. Kock, D. King.

The Blue Triangle club—like its big sister, Y-Teen—has as its purpose "to find and give the best." Through participation in the various club activities, each girl has an opportunity to develop her talents and to enrich her character and personality.

Special Blue Triangle projects included a clothes collection foı Polish relief and the annual sale of Christmas cards and wrappings. A Mother and Daughter Tea, a Valentine party, and a full dress Halloween party highlighted the social activities.

Leaders of the club were Mrs. Schlect, sponsor; Sue Ann Rowe, president; Jacquelin Roberts, vice-president; Janet Limpert, secretary; and Patricia Bartlett, treasurer.

"More and better readers" is th's year library slogan; and Mrs. Sweeney, school librarian, has worked diligently to help carry out that idea. Helping her with the many tasks—such as checking books, collecting fines, and helping students to locate books—are a group of high school students each of whom serves as librarian during her study period. Every student has a keen appreciation for the services these librarians render to our school.

THIRD ROW: B. Noel, K. Anderson, M. Wappes, F. Jordan, B. Ferguson, F. Housel, C. Kuckuck, K. Sliger, G. Pearson, M. Steller. FOURTH ROW: R. Chisholm, T. DeWitt, R. Donley, M. Poer, N. Runion, C. McNutt, D. Schulthess.

The F. F. A. club combines leadership and practical experience to help interested boys to become better trained in the principals of farming. Through the sale of apples and chocolate milk to students, and seeds to farmers, the club raises funds which it uses to purchase new equipment for the "ag" shop. The club sponsored several judging teams and also a club basketball team.

The officers were Richard Haynes, president; Karl Sliger, vice-president; Donald Eldridge, secretary; Lee Cook, treasurer; Dale Yarde, reporter; and Richard Ober, sentinel. The club is sponsored by Mr. Bateman, head of the agriculture department.

The basis of the Scout Club's activity is its motto, "Be Prepared." Preparing for future life, the Scouts better their school and community through group projects including the "good deeds" at Christmas and Thanksgiving. Various Scout tests and merit badge and leadership programs are held throughout the year to broaden each member's knowledge of Scouting.

The Scout Club is under the capable leadership of Mr. Woodcox, sponsor; Edwin Mortorff, junior assistant scout master; and Martin Woodcox, senior patrol leader.

Everyone likes to hear a good song. Girls' Glee Club and Mixed Chorus are two of the organized groups which strive to make good music. Girls from all four high school grades compose the Girls' Glee Club, while the Mixed Chorus is a blend of both male and female voices. Both groups performed at the Twentieth Century Club during the Christmas season, at the Spring Concert, and at the Commencement and Baccalaureate services. The Mixed Chorus also presented special numbers at the Thanksgiving assembly.

Mr. Gilbert Coble is director of both organizations.

This year was eventful for the Garrett Band. Membership was increased to sixty and the talents were greatly improved. Piloted by Mrs. Soudah, the band completed a successful mission with in-between stops at football and basketball games, the Auburn fair, the Halloween parade, the County Concert at Auburn, and the Spring Concert. The twirlers, whose superb performances enlivened the half-time activities at athletic contests, were (below) left to right: Marlene Partee, Sue Stephenson, Patricia Owens, and Joan Rimmel.

Because of its enlarged financial reserves the band was able to purchase new hats, braids, belts, and music stands. The Band Parents' Club was highly instrumental in this project.

Those serving as officers of the band were: Marvin Sherman, president; Jayne Owens, vice-president; Florine Bush, secretary; and Marilyn Brown, treasurer.

The Boys' Quartet, a new member of the music department this year, acquired the reputation of being able to add a delightful bit of music and comedy to many high school and community gatherings. The numbers varied from humorous skits to classical selections and Negro Spirituals. The members were (below) left to right: Ted Fletcher, and Marvin Sherman, tenors; Dick Ober and Joe DeVeny, basses; and, at the piano, Phyllis Beck. Mrs. Soudah directed the group.

SEATED: Frank Dammann, Carol Kessler, Phyllis Beck, Miss Evard, Jayne Owens, Charles Argubright.
STANDING: Ramona Treesh, Jeanette Fenstermaker, Irma Stoll, Charles Davis, Robert Mossberger, Janet Engle, Fannie Mae Rowe.

Through the efforts of Miss Evard and staff, the Maroon and Blue Streamliner was again published. The paper, giving a complete coverage of all Garrett High School news, was presented to the eager subscribers every two weeks. Highlights of the paper were its special issues emphasizing sports events, the Christmas season, and graduation.

The AEOLIAN staff has worked long and hard to compile this view of life at Garrett High School. This could not have been accomplished without the careful supervision of Miss Thrush, literary advisor; Miss Gump, typing supervisor; Mr. Sherman, business advisor; and Mr. Berry, photographer. Therefore it is with sincere appreciation that the AEOLIAN staff says "thank you" for these persons' untiring efforts.

FLYING HIGH . . .

The teams zoomed on and on

Coaches Harman, Parks, and Bateman.

Seldom in Garrett High School's athletic history have Railroader teams been so outstanding in both football and basketball the same year. The county and sectional basketball crowns, eight straight football victories, an admirable track squad, plus a top-notch cross-country team are enough to make any coach happy and proud. The coaches have had the responsibility of training and developing the squads into smooth-running teams. With the support of the fans, led by six energetic cheerleaders, the Railroaders have spelled victory, victory, victory!

CHEERLEADERS: Carol Kessler, Gwynn Wade, Evelyn Smith, Bernard Pence, Joyce Barnes, Margaret Smith.

FIRST ROW: C. Smith, R. Ober, W. Putt, N. Withrow, H. Simpson, G. Pearson, N. Schlosser, E. Mortorff, R. Treesh, J. Clark, T. DeWitt, B. Leins. SECOND ROW: Mr. Bateman, T. Fletcher, L. Cook, K. Sliger, R. Mossberger, W. Ervin, R. Creager, C. Davis, M. Poer, W. Souder, J. Moses, C. Argubright, Mr. Harman. THIRD ROW: G. Nodine, F. Gingerich, H. Bonnett, R. Dawson, W. Deiderich, D. Steward, M. Woodcox, K. Hollis, B. Noel, D. Shull, R. Hollis, C. Waterbeck. FOURTH ROW: D. Gentry, H. Snyder, G. Mayfield, G. Wappes, R. Beebe, W. Leech, R. Hauck, Mr. Parks, R. Chisholm, B. Riccus, J. Campbell, F. Mossberger, B. Pence.

Garrett High School's 1947 football team completed one of the most successful gridiron campaigns in the history of the school. The team compiled a record of eight straight victories while it lost only the season's final game to a great Auburn team. Garrett team members who placed on All-Conference and All-State teams were: Ned Schlosser and George Pearson, both placing on the NEIC first team as well as receiving All-State honorable mention; Jack Clark, placing on the NEIC second team; Jim Moses, Bill Putt, and Norval Withrow receiving NEIC honorable mention.

Starting the season with only four regulars returning—Schlosser, Pearson, Simpson, and Withrow—Coach Park's forces gained strength through the experience from each contest. The Railroaders opened the season by journeying to Portland where they eked out a 7-6 win over a veteran Panther eleven.

The Maroon and Blue clad gridmen made their first home and conference appearance a victorious one as they beat back a stubborn crew of Yellow Jackets from Decatur, 7-2. Against Warsaw the Railroaders came from behind with three touchdowns in the fourth quarter to take a thriller and a conference game from the Tigers, 39-29. Precision passes, long runs, and superb blocking highlighted the evening's play.

Entertaining Columbia City in an NEIC game, the Railroaders made the Eagles victim number four by a 29 to 18 score. The following Friday night the team met a determined group of Cadets from Concordia. The locals' ability to convert their extra points decided the issue 14-12. Returning to conference play, the Railroaders trounced the New Haven Bulldogs 25-6 for their sixth straight victory. At Bluffton the Railroaders kept their winning string alive at seven as they came from behind in the last half to grind out a 14-7 triumph over the Tigers in a hard-fought contest. In less than a week the Railroaders played host to Mike Sapp's Hicksville Aces and handed the boys from the Buckeye state a 33-0 licking in a speedy aerial attack.

Eight victories . . one defeat

October 31, Halloween night, in the final game of the season, the Railroaders met Auburn —which team likewise had, until then, an undefeated season. Thus, the conference title was at stake. During the first half, before the Railroaders could harness Auburn's devastating passing attack, the Red Devils built up a 26 to 6 lead. The last half revealed more of the type of game that was to be expected as the teams battled on even terms, with Auburn scoring once more late in the game. The Railroaders' one consolation was that they were the first and only team to score against the Red Devils during the 1947 season.

Eight victories and one defeat is a record of which any team may be justly proud!

The GHS reserve football squad completed a five game schedule in the 1947 season which included games with Decatur, Columbia City, Howe Military Academy, and two games with Auburn. Though the records reveal that the Railroader "B's" gained only a tie with Columbia City against four defeats, the true value that these under-classmen gained in experience will be shown next year when these boys step into varsity positions.

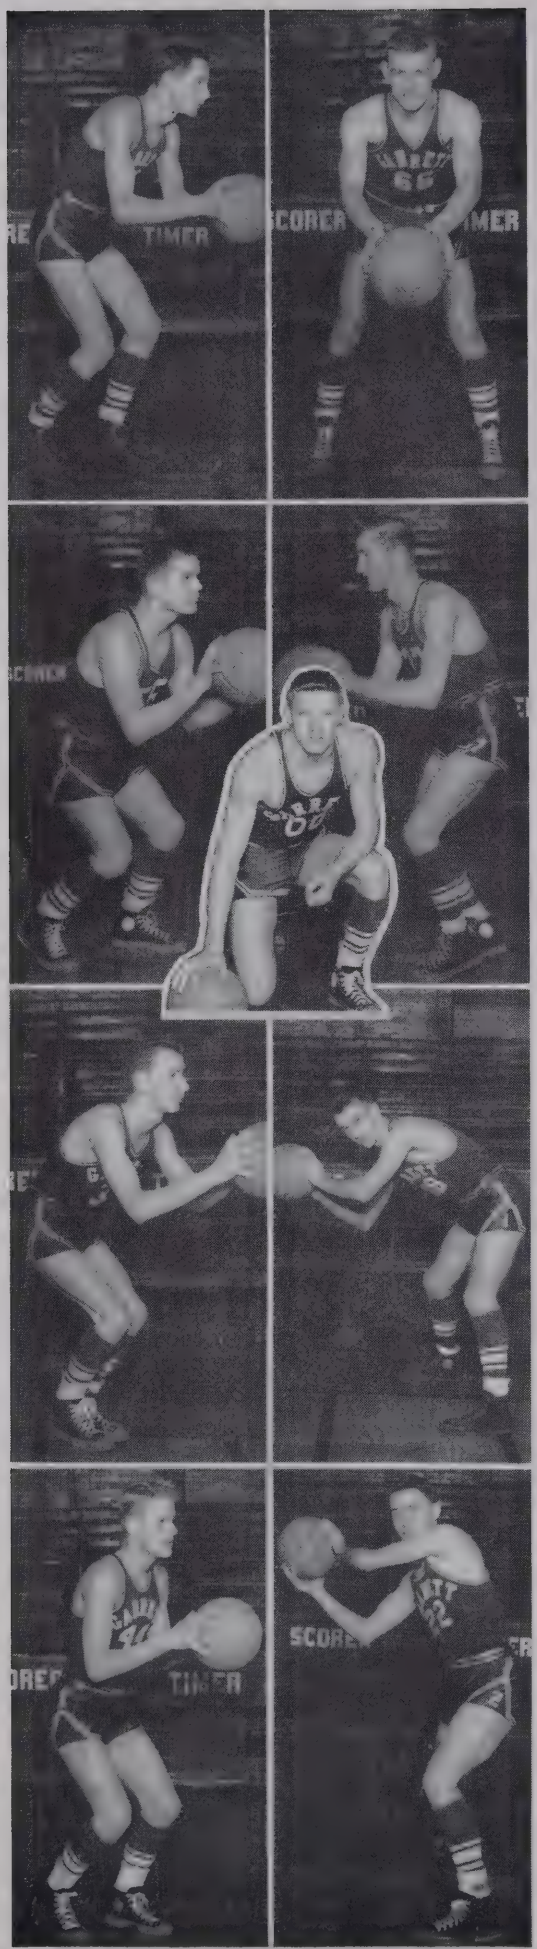
TOP ROW: GLEN NODINE—Sr., HB 1 yr.—"Glenard's" speed and drive made him a valuable man. JACK CLARK—Soph., E. 2 yr.—"Sleepy" helped to keep the opponents in the hole by means of his long kick-offs. ED MORTORFF—Sr., FB, 3 yr.—"Mort" was one of those rough and tough fullbacks. NED SCHLOSSER—Sr. HB, 2 yr.—Through stellar passing, punting, and running, "Nedderd" led the team to eight consecutive victories. GEORGE PEARSON—Sr., T, 3 yr.—"Captain Georgie," the star lineman, was well-known as the fifth member of the opponents backfield. TOM DEWITT—Jr., HB, 1 yr.—"Tommy's" running and passing will be of great value to the 1948 team.

SECOND ROW: HOWARD SIMPSON—Sr., G, 3 yr.—"Cowboy's" rough tactics kept the referees constantly on the job. RICHARD OBER—Sr., T, 2 yr.—"Dick" will be remembered as the red, white, and blue boy—and many a foe were "blue" because of him. NORVAL WITHROW—Sr., C, 3 yr.—"Nonnie's" chatter and fight did much to keep the team alive. BILL PUTT—Jr., G, 2 yr.—"Putter" was the little boy with a big grin. The rougher the game, the better he liked it. ROBERT TREESH—Sr., E. 1 yr.—"Vet," elected president of the locker-room, held down an end position in his "spare" time. LEE COOK—Sr., T, 1 yr.—"Cookie" was kept on the bench with a bad knee most of the season, but he remained a potential reserve.

BOTTOM ROW: JIM MOSES—Jr., FB, 1 yr.—"Jimmy" was the boy who made his own holes. He'll be returning next fall. TED FLETCHER—Soph., HB, 1 yr.—"Zilly" was a defensive specialist. Much is expected of him in the future. CHARLES DAVIS—Sr., C, 1 yr.—"Chuck" was the boy with the beard and was as rugged as he looked. CLARENCE SMITH—Sr., QB, 1 yr.—"Pete's" magical ball-handling kept the defense guessing. CHARLES ARGUBRIGHT—Sr., QB, 1 yr.—"Augy's" left hand was a great asset to the Railroaders. BALLARD LEINS—Sr., E, 1 yr.—"Billiard's" juggle act in receiving the pigskin brought many fans to their feet.

Seniors not pictured but who received letters are: RICHARD HOLLIS—Sr., T, 1 yr.—"Jumbo" was a big boy who loved to kick that football.

BILL ERVIN—Sr., G, 1 yr.—"Willie" was the comedian of the squad, but once upon the gridiron, it was all seriousness. KARL SLIGER—Sr., G, 1 yr.—"Slinger" was the farmer boy who threw tackles like he threw hay.



They come through with flying colors

Garrett High School's sparkling hardwood demons turned in a record of twenty victories against six defeats. The Railroaders enhanced their basketball prestige by copping the DeKalb County and the sectional championships, besides lasting in the regional play until the final round when they bowed to the strong Monroeville Cubs, 37-25.

Statistics reveal that the Maroon and Blue cagers hit for 1,032 points in their twenty-six games—an offensive average of nearly forty points per game. On the defensive side of the ledger, the "Parksmen" limited their opponents to a total of 832 points for a fine defensive average of only thirty-two points per contest.

The GHS fans matched the team spirit with support unequalled in many years of Garrett's athletic history. Displays in downtown business houses, a community pep session preceding the regional, and a cheering section fully bedecked in railroader regalia added much color and spirit to the regional games.

The coaches and principals of schools in the NEIC gave fitting recognition to the Garrett team by selecting Ned Schlosser as an all-conference first team forward, and Meredith Poer as center on the second team. In addition, George Pearson received honorable mention as forward, and Jack Clark received honorable mention as guard.

First team basketball squad. Top Row: MEREDITH POER, c.—Pivot-man Poer was very adept at rebounding as well as at making high-arched shots. JACK CLARK, g.—Jack played the other pivot along with Poer, and together they made the plays click for baskets. Row Two: GEORGE PEARSON, f.—George specialized in long, one-handed push shots and fast breaks. Many an opposing guard took a second look when they saw Georgie coming. NED SCHLOSSER, f.—Captain "Red" had the ability to put the leather through the hoops from any position on the floor; he was the leading scorer of the team. ROBERT TREESH, g.—"Vet" could be counted on to sink a long shot or break up the opponent's fast-breaking style of play. Row Three: CHARLES ARGUBRIGHT, f.—"Augy" was known for his fancy shooting. His specialty was left-handed push shots. NORVAL WITHROW, g.—Nonnie was a capable guard, and he, too could sink long shots. Bottom Row: DWAYNE HARRIS, f.—"Blondie's" bad leg didn't seem to bother him when he got out on the court. He liked lay-up shots the best. TOM DEWITT, f.—Tom could always make his free throws, and he liked to shoot long two-handed push shots.

The "Hand-cars," as the GHS reserve squad is affectionately known, compiled a notable overall record of ten wins and nine defeats. Starting slow, the Hand-Cars dropped five of their first six contests. They then turned on the steam to win nine of their thirteen remaining games. The team highlighted its hardwood season by capturing the DeKalb County second team tournament.

Junior High basketball team. KNEELING: A. Smith, A. Brand, D. Casey, G. McPheeters, L. Harper, W. Cramer, H. Soudah, G. Warfield. STANDING: J. Waterbeck, J. Koch, R. Rimmel, T. Jackson, J. Williams, R. Hammond, J. Feagler, B. Meyers, H. Quince, N. Zimmerman.

JETS . . .

The 1948 track squad was built around eight returning lettermen—Schlosser, Clady, J. Clark, Argubright, Hartle, Mortorff, M. Wappes, and Hofferman—who had aided their fellow harriers to win consistently throughout the 1947 season. Edwin Mortorff was elected track captain. The tentative schedule: April 2—Huntertown and Hamilton here; April 7—Decatur and Ashley here; April 9—Kendallville and Waterloo here; April 14—Central and Butler here; April 21—Auburn there; April 24—Goshen relays; April 28—Howe there; May 1—Kokomo relays; May 6—NEIC meet here; May 11—County meet here; May 14—Sectional meet; May 22—State meet.

Garrett fielded a cross-country team last fall for the first time since 1938. The GHS harriers split even in eight meets. Paced by Jack Clady, the team copped second in the NEIC meet at Decatur. Clady won the sectional held at Ft. Wayne to qualify for the state meet where he placed twenty-seventh among 116 runners.

Basketball is the main sport in G. A. A. which included sixty-five girls this year, from the grades nine to twelve. To promote fellowship and good sportsmanship is the purpose of this club.

The girls were organized into six different teams with the following captains, and team names: Margaret Smith, Jolly Dollies; Diane Hopkins, Di's Diddies; Martha Bloom, Bloomer Girls; Margaret Weideman, Weidie's Swedies; Jayne Owens, Roaring Riplers; Sue Stephenson, Stevie's Steam Cats.

Playing games every Monday night, the girls ended their season with an elimination tournament. For a grand finale, the losing teams entertained the rest of the club with a party.

Senior girls receive chevrons for each year that they are members of the G. A. A. and those with a four-year record received honor pins.

Officers of the G. A. A. were, Joyce Barnes, President; Janet Engle, Vice-president; Elnora Smith, Secretary; Marilyn Heinlen, Treasurer.

CLASS WILL . . .

We, the Senior Class of Nineteen hundred and forty-eight, do hereby leave our last will and testament—may our heirs benefit by our sacrifices.

I, Vincent Bartlett, will to Richard Kruger my ability to get through first and second year typing by the skin of my teeth.

I, Diane Hopkins, will to Punk Luttman my flirtatious ways and my whistle awarded to me for being a flirt. (You've got a nice start, Punky.)

To Gretel Heinzerling do I, Marvin Sherman, will those blaring notes in band.

To Janet Limpert, Maxine Fitch, and Sharon DePew, do we, Phyllis Beck, Ramona Treesh, and Esther Stevens, will our top lockers.

I, Paul Bloom, will to Robert Panning my ambitions and hope that it won't take him seven years to finish.

We, the gruesome threesome—Roland Cole, Charles Argubright, and Richard Buchmeier—will our incomparable ability (?) to anyone "brave" enough to take Chemistry. May Mr. Baker rest in peace.

I, Betty Brown, will to Jeanette Fenstermaker my "skininess."

To Marcine Ashenfelter, do I, Marjorie Zoll, will my hamburger career.

I, Maurice McPheeters, will to Bill Mavity my bashfulness.

To Pat Krider, do I, Barbara Krider, will my work in the library.

I, Joyce Kuckuck, will to any junior what little of my temper there is left.

I, Marilyn Heinlen, will to Marilyn Brown my job of typing all eligibilty lists for Mr. Bateman —poor girl.

To Ted Fletcher, do I, Howard Simpson, will the ability to make the all-conference first team in football in his junior year.

I, Dick Ober, will to Georgie Wappes my ability for crooning in the football locker room.

I, David Grimm, will any underclassman my ability to secure, without much difficulty (the usual third degree, that is), an "excused" absence blank.

I, Charles Davis, will to Johnnie Walters my not being the tallest, but next-to-the-tallest boy in my class.

To anyone who wants to take the chance, do we, Chuck Hartle, Joyce Barnes, Dorothy Martin, and Peg Smith, will our ability to get to school at the last possible minute and still not be late.

I, Carol Kessler, after wondering what to will and what to leave, have finally decided that I am just willing to leave.

I, Gerald Carper, will to anyone who will make use of it, my three years of mechanical drawing.

To Jerry Campbell, do I, Lee Cook, will my ability to make good grades in U. S. History after a half year of "horsing around."

To Kenneth Sliger, do I, Jim Ferguson, will all the trouble with cars and Mr. Bateman.

I, Marjory Newman, will to Tiny Bush my typewriter in Room 19 (it is second from the left on the front row.)

I, George Pearson, will my big mouth to anyone who can keep it shut.

To Dwayne Harris, do I, Ned Schlosser, will my book of excuses for the "Monday Morning Blues."

I, Frank Tuttle, will to anyone who may need it my ability to keep out of trouble while in school.

To Robert Boren, do I, Norval Withrow, will all my old rusty trumpet mouthpieces, with the provision that he keeps them shiny.

I, Margaret Weideman, will to Elly Smith my Chemistry drawer and the few remaining utensils, in hopes she will keep them in one stable piece.

I, Joe DeVeny, will to any junior my white class sweater that gets so dirty.

To any junior, do I, Donald Eldridge, will my ability to avoid the breakfast club.

I, Ballard Leins, will to any junior who wants it, my position on the Aeolian Staff.

I, Ed Mortorff, will to Jim Moses my wire football locker. May it be a profit to him as it was to me.

To Donald Gentry, do I, Franklyn Damman, will some of my size. (Please, no comment.)

We, Bob Mossberger and Irma Stoll, will to any future journalism students our trials and tribulations in journalism this past year.

I, Earl Schlotterback, will to Dick Christlieb my ability to fix wrecked cars.

I, Dale Schulthess, will to Jack Thrush my exciting arguments with Mr. Bateman.

To Sarah McCarter, do I, Jo Anne Sell, will my ability to be a nuisance.

I, Gene Snook, will to Joan Carlin my ability to maintain a lasting friendship.

We, Emmett Traxler and Bob Treesh, will to anyone who wants it, our ability to get into trouble.

To Blaine Peters, do I, Bill Ervin, will my position of "left half, extended" on the G. H. S. eleven. May he use it to advantage in '48.

To Martin Woodcox, do I, Roy Creager, will my mechanical drawing skills and chills, of interest and otherwise.

I, Richard Hollis, will to Bill Leech my football locker

To any freshman or sophomore who needs it, do I, Jayne Owens, will my love for first and second year Latin.

I, Wayne Souder, will to any junior boy my ability to have a good time.

We, Benny Pence, Glen Nodine, and Pete Smith, will our ability to carry on a conversation, to anyone who may need it.

To Ann McBride, do I, Barbara Simpson, will my ability to have my lessons on time.

I, Evie Smith, will be willing to make the will to put in the Senior Wills so that someone might get willed something because of my willingness.

We, Carl McNutt and Karl Sliger, will to any two juniors our long lists of absences. May they have better success in getting them excused than we did.

I, Richard Lee Haynes, will to Dale Yarde my office in the F. F. A. and the ability to be sick at the time when work is to be done.

To the Freshman class do we, the Class of '48, will our studious efforts to conquer algebra and Latin.

To the Sophomore class, do we, the Class of '48, will our determination to secure a mutual friendship between sophomores and juniors.

To the Junior class, do we, the Class of '48, will the responsibilities and accomplishments of a maturing group of students.

To the school, do we, the Class of '48, leave our sincere hopes that more and better student-teacher relationships shall be attained.

Signed by the authoritative representative of the Senior Class.

David Grimm
